

POLAND LAW ON ASSOCIATIONS

Article 34

An association may conduct economic activities according to general principles provided by other regulations. Proceeds from economic activities of an association serve to realize its statutory goals and may not be shared among the association's members.